About

Designer with a Fine Arts background and hands that work across the whole pipeline — from concept sketches to print files, social content, merch, and brand systems to UX/UI.

I've started moving into the work that sits above execution: owning visual direction, shaping how a brand communicates, and bringing coherence to projects that involve multiple teams and moving parts. I'm building toward roles where design is tied to strategy — where the brief is shaped, not just answered.

Work Experience

Design & Social Media Intern, Berlin.
